Level I Workshops: Introduction to Teaching with Primary Sources

Become familiar with the breadth and organization of digital primary sources from the Library of Congress, understand their value in instruction, links to Common Core, and create basic inquiry-based learning experiences.

Level II Workshops: Advanced program

Evaluate, create and teach topic-specific, content-informed learning experiences integrating primary sources from the Library of Congress that support effective instructional practices.
(Prerequisite: Level I workshop)

Washington State Clock Hours and/or University Credit are available for all classes. Certificate of Attendance is awarded at conclusion of workshop. While the workshop is free, travel, lodging, and food are at the attendee's expense.

OREGON ASSOCIATION OF SCHOOL LIBRARIES
dba Oregon Educational Media Association

MISSION STATEMENT OASL provides progressive leadership to pursue excellence in school library media programs by:

- advocating information literacy for all students;
- supporting the highest levels of library media services in schools;
- supporting reading instruction and enjoyment of literature;
- strengthening member professionalism through communication and educational opportunities;
- promoting visibility in education, government and the community

INTERCHANGE: JOURNAL OF THE OREGON ASSOCIATION OF SCHOOL LIBRARIES is published three times each year by the Oregon Association of School Libraries, 860 S. Clematis Lane, West Linn, OR 97068 and is sent electronically to all member subscribers. Member subscribers can request printed versions at $15 per year. Subscription rate for non-members is also $15 per year for a mailed printed version.

Contributions to INTERCHANGE are welcome and all opinions stated are those of the author unless bearing clear OASL endorsement. Subscription rate for non-members is $15.00 per year. The Oregon Educational Media Association was formed through the consolidations of the Oregon Association of School Librarians and the Oregon Instructional Media Association on June 30, 1971. The Oregon Educational Media Association was renamed Oregon Association of School Libraries on March 1, 2007. INTERCHANGE continues OEMA INTERCHANGE Vol. 8, No. 4 and OASL OREGON SCHOOL LIBRARIAN AND MEDIA SPECIALIST Vol. 13, No. 1.
